

BGC Worcester Music Program

OVERVIEW

The BGC Worcester Music Program provides free string instrument tutoring and rental to young members of the Worcester community, where Brandeis music students would offer weekly one-on-one Zoom sessions and biweekly on-site visits. The program aims to develop participants' hobbies while also fostering Brandeis students' leadership skills and compassion.

SUSTAINABILITY

Many mentors and mentees participated in the program during spring, and BGC Worcester plans to offer financial support for rentals and transportation after summer. Most importantly, plenty of students demonstrated interest in keeping going.

PROCEDURE

In February, I contacted BGC Worcester and began recruitment. By March, I secured violin rentals and the necessary forms for the crew. Online and in-person tutoring sessions began in April.

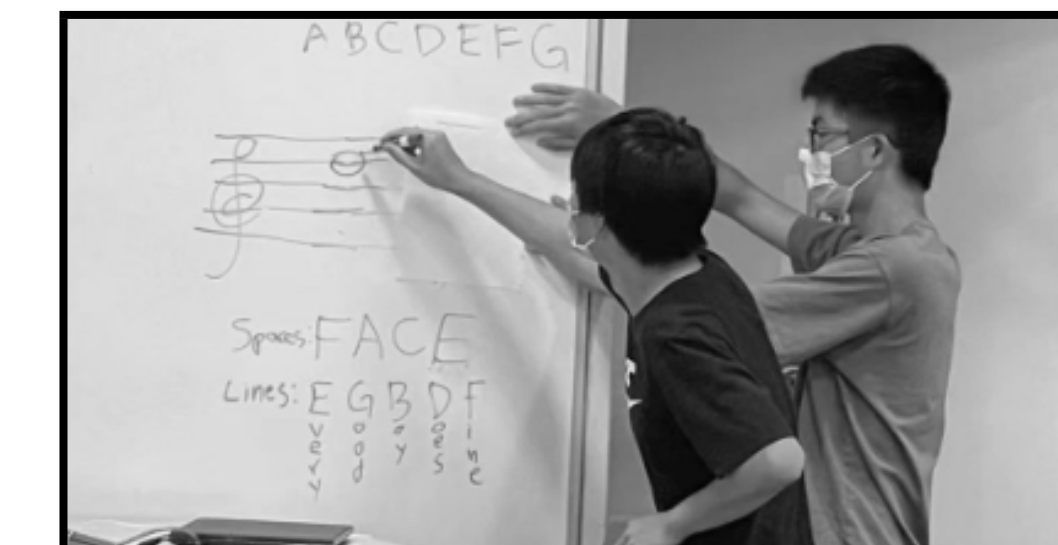

INSPIRATIONS

Witnessing music's impact on Worcester's youth is nothing short of incredible. Overcoming various obstacles, such as managing multi-party coordination, to bring this vision to life has helped me develop my professional skills and strengthen my bond with the community. To me, my first interest meeting was particularly monumental.

OUTCOME

“I learned so much about the violin,
and now I think I really like it!” - Layla
“The violin is so different from anything I've seen before! It's really cool!” - Jay “I want to learn how to play so I can make music like a pro!” - Julian

Special thanks to the RCCLIF grant funders for making this project possible!
